WHY TURKMENISTAN — A MARKET IN MOTION

Turkmenistan — a landlocked Central Asian country — has seen commercial vehicle imports surge by several hundred percent in recent years, driven by:

Belt and Road Initiative — Overland transport from China now takes just two weeks, making Turkmenistan a key transit corridor between East Asia and Europe.

Petrochemical growth — One of the world's largest natural gas reserves, with rapidly expanding processing capacity requiring heavy-duty transport.

Agricultural expansion — Government investment in greenhouses and agriculture is driving demand for refrigerated trucks to export to Uzbekistan and beyond.
